Regular member

This membership is for CPAs who hold a current and valid license or who previously held a license in good standing.

Affiliate member

This membership is for those who do not possess a CPA license but have a deep involvement in accounting or finance.

International associate

This membership is for accounting and finance professionals who are members of an approved partner organization outside of the U.S.

Candidate member

This membership is for those on their way to take the Uniform CPA Exam and join the profession.

Retired member

This membership is for those who have reached retirement age as determined by the Social Security Administration, and, if employed, are working as a professional fewer than 20 hours per week on average.

Temporarily left the workforce (TLW)

This is available to members who are not working due to unemployment or leave for medical, family, or full-time education reasons.

Sections

Sections provide specialized tools, resources, CPE and community to enhance your expertise, build new competencies and deepen client and business relationships in the areas of tax, personal financial planning, forensic and valuation and not-for-profit.

Credentials

Credentials enhance your credibility and open new doors by demonstrating the powerful combination of your technical expertise, adherence to the respected AICPA Code of Professional Conduct and commitment to competency and continued learning.

CGMA® designation

The Chartered Global Management Accountant® (CGMA) designation is the premier management accounting credential, indicating you have advanced proficiency in finance, operations, strategy and management. With this credential, you embrace global recognition of your business acumen, ethics and commitment.

Public accounting position changes: Changes to senior-level members in U.S. public accounting firms may require approval from our Peer Review Program and cannot be submitted online.

Regular members cannot change to Affiliate member status. If you are not eligible for Regular member status, please contact our Global Engagement Center.

Pay it forward to the profession

AICPA Benevolent Fund

The AICPA Benevolent Fund was created to provide short-term financial assistance to members struggling due to unemployment, health and medical expenses, natural disasters, or the loss of a primary source of family income. Please consider donating to help those experiencing financial hardships. Learn more at aicpa-cima.com/benevolentfund.

AICPA Foundation

Please consider contributing to the AICPA Foundation when you renew. All donations go toward scholarships and grants for aspiring CPAs. Helping the next generation of accounting students is an investment in the profession's future. Learn more at aicpa-cima.com/foundation.

AICPA PAC

Your contribution to the AICPA's Political Action Committee (PAC) will help the AICPA ensure that the profession's positions are heard and considered by lawmakers. Contributions are used for political purposes. All contributions are voluntary — the amounts shown are only suggestions and members may contribute more or less than the amount shown. The AICPA will not favor or disadvantage any member because of the amount they contribute or their decision not to contribute. Contributions to the AICPA PAC are not tax-deductible. Learn more at aicpa-cima.com/PAC.

Notes about contributions

AICPA dues may be deducted as a business expense but not as a charitable contribution. Four percent of net dues are not deductible in accordance with IRC Sec. 6033. Contributions to the AICPA Foundation (EIN 13-6169602) and the AICPA Benevolent Fund (EIN 12-6168775) are tax-deductible as charitable contributions. The AICPA federal tax identification number is 13-0432265.
